Meeting Objectives

- Expand understanding of scope and depth of activities at IRAC International and IRAC country groups
 - Pre-reads have been circulated / post-reads will be available
 - Identify commonalities and any disconnects
- Engage, interact, synergize with CropLife International

The DOs and DON'Ts presented below highlight only the most basic RED FLAGS when engaging in contact with competitors through CropLife International meetings or events. Each participant in a meeting should be thoroughly familiar with his/her responsibilities under the antitrust laws and should consult in-house or external legal counsel in all cases involving specific situations, interpretations or advice.

DON'T, in fact or in appearance:

- ✘ Fix purchase or selling price or other trading conditions.
- ✘ Limit supply of products, services, output, markets, technical development or investment.
- ✘ Allocate markets or customers, whether through bid rigging or otherwise with your competitors.
- ✘ Reach understandings or agreements – verbal or written, implemented or not – or even hold discussion on anything related to commercially sensitive information, such as:
 - Individual company prices, price changes, price differentials, mark-ups, discounts, allowances, credit terms, or data that bear on price, e.g. costs, production, capacity, inventories, sales volumes.
 - Industry pricing policies, price levels, price changes or differentials.
 - Current and future production or capacity levels.
 - Bids on contracts for particular products; procedures for responding to bid invitations.
 - Individual business and Capex plans and marketing plans and strategies.
 - Adoption of new standards, which might have the effect of excluding certain technologies, agricultural techniques, production processes or products from any market.
- ✘ Attend CropLife International meetings without pre-approved written agenda or clear indication of the purpose.
- ✘ Accept commercially sensitive information from a competitor or agree to share such information with your competitor(s).
- ✘ Participate in any information exchange, market survey, or benchmarking exercise that allows access to individualized competitive information from the various competitors.
- ✘ Engage in conduct the purpose or effect of which is to exclude any competitor or supplier or to engage in collective boycotts.

DON'T discuss or exchange information regarding the above matters during social gatherings incidental to CropLife International meetings, even in jest.

Antitrust guidelines

In addition, it is particularly important that you:

- ✓ DO have an agenda and adhere to prepared agendas for all meetings.
- ✓ DO acknowledge the present Reminder at the start of the meetings.
- ✓ DO get minutes taken and object if they do not accurately reflect the discussion and actions taken.
- ✓ DO protest against any discussions or meeting activities which appear to violate the above RED FLAGS; dissociate yourself from any such discussions or activities and leave any meeting in which they continue.
- ✓ DO consult with your in-house or external legal counsel on all antitrust questions relating to meetings, and promptly report any violation of the above RED FLAGS.
